1. "Persons" includes a natural person as well as a validly formed corporation, limited partnership, limited liability company or general partnership. Trust property is vested in the trustee (usually a natural person or corporation).

2. For domestic partners meeting California statutory requirements, benefits are same as community property except certain tax benefits may not be available. Note: Two unrelated persons who are either (a) same sex, or (b) opposite sex if they meet age or disability requirements, may be domestic partners provided that they are not then married or in a domestic partnership and comply with other statutory requirements.

3. Transfers by married persons or domestic partners may require a quitclaim deed from spouse/partner for title insurance purposes.

4. If co-owners are married or domestic partners, property may be subject to legal presumption of "community property" requiring consent of both spouses/partners to convey or encumber title notwithstanding vesting as "joint tenancy."

Vesting Descriptions

Title to real property in California may be held by individuals, either in Sole Ownership or in Co-ownership. Co-ownership of real property occurs when title is held by two or more persons. There are several variations as to how title may be held in each type of ownership. The following brief summaries reference eight of the more common examples of Sole Ownership and Co-ownership.

▼ Sole Ownership

► A Single Man/Woman

A single man or woman

Example: John Doe, a single man

► A Divorced Man/Woman

A man or woman, having been legally divorced

Example: Jane, an unmarried woman

► A Married Man/Woman, as His/Her Sole & Separate Property

When a married man or woman wishes to acquire title as their sole and separate property, the spouse must consent and relinquish all right, title and interest in the property by deed or other written agreement

Example: John, a married man, as his sole and separate property

▼ Co-Ownership

► Community Property

Property acquired by a married couple, or either spouse during marriage, other than by gift, bequest, devise, descent or as the separate property of either, is presumed community property.

Example: John and Mary, husband and wife, as community property

Example: Jane, a married woman

► Tenancy in Common

Under tenancy in common, the co-owners own undivided interests, but unlike joint tenancy, there is no right of survivorship; each tenant owns an interest which on his or her death vests in his or her heirs or devisee

Example: John, a single man as to an undivided 1/4th interest as tenants in common

► Community Property with Right of Survivorship

Community property, acquired by a married couple when expressly declared in the transfer document to be "community property with right of survivorship," shall pass to the surviving spouse without having to first pass through the administration of the estate

► Joint Tenancy

Joint and equal interest in land owned by two or more individuals created under a single instrument with right of survivorship

Example: John and Mary, husband and wife, as joint tenants

► Trust

Title to real property in California may be held by a trustee in trust; the trustee of the trust holds title pursuant to the terms of the trust for the benefit of the trustor/beneficiary
